The Young Daughters of the Confederacy held their regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. Frank A. Walke, on Grace street, Wednesday afternoon. Quite a large number of the daughters having been invited, an important business was transacted. Dolls were given out to be dressed for the annual doll sale in December. Miss Lucy Brickhouse read Mr. Tucker's poem, "Let us Build a Monument," which was loudly applauded. The Pickett-Buchanan Chapter, D. C., will hold a bazaar in the fall for the purpose of raising money to complete the monument.

The commencement exercises of Misses Phillips & West's school were held at the Masonic Temple Friday evening before a large number of invited guests. Music and recitations, interspersed the program. Exhibitions of physical culture were given and the chorus class of tiny little ones delighted the audience with their songs. Eight gold medals were given—six for scholarship and two for having received an average of 95 on all English branches and Latin, and two on general excellence.

After the program was completed music was rendered, and the pupils enjoyed themselves for the space of an hour, when refreshments were served.

On Thursday, Mr. Charlie Hardy entertained a number of his friends in a charming manner at Ocean View. The guests left on an early train and spent the entire day at the Chesapeake Club, returning late in the afternoon. Among Mr. Hardy's guests on this pleasant occasion were Misses Louise Jones, Byrd Page, Hattie Page, Baynie Taylor, Lucy Hardy, Lucy Quinby, Lelia Hobson, Lottie Hodges, Jean Cooke, Gwendolyn Morgan, Cornelia McElair, Alice Williams, Kate Hardy, Etta Sharpe, Virginia Gordon, Messrs. Nash, Reed, Holl, Page, Baldwin, Myers, Monroe, Kelly, Davis Jordan, Richard Waldrop, John Williams, William Burwell, Henry Wainwright, Eugene Hardy and John B. Taylor.

Miss Cora Marnox gave a picnic yesterday to the children of her school, which was greatly enjoyed by the little ones.

The young men of Portsmouth gave a very delightful tug party on Friday evening, the destination being Old Point, where dancing was enjoyed at the Chamberlin Hotel until three o'clock, when the party left for their home.

One of the most delightful occasions given by the younger set was the tug party, which Miss Lelia Hobson invited her friends to join, last evening. The party arrived at Old Point at half past eight o'clock, and enjoyed the evening dancing the hours away to the music at the Hygeia. Delightful refreshments

Publications Received.

BOBBIE, by Kate Cairns, published by the B. F. Johnson Publishing Co., Richmond, Va., 186 pages, illustrated, cloth bound, price $1.

"Bobbie" is based on incidents which occurred during the war between the South and North, and the love story which winds its way through the entire book is told in a most beautiful manner. Beginning as it does, during the days of childhood, it continues through the years which passed until the civil war began, when one of its participants went forth to fight for his cause and the other remained at home to comfort her soldier sweetheart's aged mother, till, on the night of December 24th, 1864, the soldier arrives at his home on furlough, and ends as the tall clock in the hall chimes the birth of Christmas day when the minister, hurriedly summoned from the nearby court house, pronounces the two man and wife.

This is a beautiful and touching story, full of sentiment, well written and very interesting.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE.—We have received the annual catalogue of this well known institution of learning, situated in Belmont, Gaston county, N. C. Those who wish to know full particulars, etc., as to the college, should write to Rev. S. Melchior, O. S. B., secretary of the college, at the above address.

The Modern Penny.

Thrives on good food and sunshine, with plenty of exercise in the open air. Her form glows with health and her face blooms with its beauty. If her system needs the cleansing action of a laxative remedy, she uses the gentle and pleasant Syrup of Pius, made by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

STATE TRIALS.

EDITED BY CHARLES EDWARD LLOYD. PUBLISHED BY CAL- LAGHAN & CO., 111 MONROE STREET, CHICAGO, ILL.

This is one of the most interesting books on the market this spring. The story of its inception is this: A southern woman, who had written for years for the magazines and newspapers, was placed in charge of the exhibit of the Department of Justice at the Omaha Exposition. Among other things entrusted to her care was a bookcase full of valuable old law books, the Pandects of Justinian, Colonial Laws, and copies of the State Trials in Great Britain from the reign of Richard the II. to that of George the III. She not only read them herself, but she bought a table and chairs, placed them in the exhibit, and invited her more cultured visitors to read them. This table filled with books became a favorite resort for judges, lawyers, and scholars. The popularity of the books, especially the State Trials of Francis Hargrave and T. B. Howell, Esq., convinced her that the law of these books could be put in handy volumes for the home.
